TWO ARE KILLED IN ILLINOIS HURRICANE HEATED TERM BROKEN

Village of Pekin is Hard Hit by Storm and Much Property Loss is Suffered—Grand Stand at Granite City Ball Park Wrecked and Twenty Persons Injured.

STATION IS DEMOLISHED

Jumped Across River, Destroying Manufacturing Plants, Uprooting Trees and Smashing Window Glass—Twenty Ball Players Seek Safety Behind Grandstand When Storm Approaches and Several Are Injured in Collapse of Structure.

Pekin, Ill., May 29.—Two persons were killed and much property destroyed in a hurricane which struck about 10 miles south of here. The dead are Clyde Sakers, 14, and Frank Wheeler, 15.

The pumping station was demolished. The storm then jumped across the Illinois river and the plants of the Boley Ice company were destroyed. Trees were uprooted, roofs blown off houses and plate-glass windows shattered in the business districts.
A residence part of the city escaped.

GRAND STAND UPSET

Ball Players Injured When Wind Interrupts Game.

St. Louis, May 29.—A hurricane struck the grandstand in the Granite City (Ill.) baseball park and turned over on more than 20 persons huddled behind it. Nearly all were injured, several seriously. Sidney Magnus of Pekin, son of Former Mayor Magnus of Granite City, was internally injured and will die. Most of the injured persons belonged to Miller Brothers' ball team of St. Louis and the Chicago Anderson team of Granite City.

When the storm broke the spectators fled and the ballplayers sought shelter in the dressing room beneath the grandstand. When the wind ceased they fled again. As they emerged the wind lifted the grandstand 20 feet from its foundations and landed it upside down upon the baseball players and others, who were pinned beneath the wreckage for 20 minutes. Hundreds of men who were summoned finally lifted the stand and released them.

Sidney Magnus was Granite City's pitcher. Ernest Robinson suffered concussion of the brain. He is still unconscious and may die. Others seriously hurt are Harry Massering, son of ex-Alderman John Massering, and William Amelung. The St. Louis players injured are James McCafferty and Ed Happerson.

Senate May Handle Recalcitrant Witnesses

May Summon Recalcitrant Witnesses to Bar Wednesday.

Columbus, O., May 29.—It is not impossible that when the recalcitrant witnesses who have failed to testify before the senate probe committee are summoned before the bar of the senate to answer for alleged contempt the senate itself may decide to try a little quizzing.

The new scheme has appealed to members as being the only way by which testimony might be extracted from reluctant witnesses. The contempt charges will bring squarely before the courts on habeas corpus proceedings the legality of the senate committee.

The question will have to be determined quickly if the senate's supposed authority is to do it any good.
The senate can not sentence for contempt beyond the end of the session, according to attorneys.

No more witnesses are to be supported, it is said. The committee will report its inability to secure testimony to the senate when it reconvenes Wednesday. A few choice words probably will be written about those who have refused to testify and the committee, by this method, will certify the action up to the senate.

Members of the probe committee take little stock in adjournment to some later date, and generally professed not to be connected in any way with the plan.

Buckeye Cyclist Is Killed

Harry Nixon Dashes Into Fence on Hawthorne Track.

Chicago, May 29.—"Dead man's creek," the treacherous west curve of the racetrack at Hawthorne, figured in the death of one man and another fatally hurt, a third injured seriously and several miraculous escapes, in a spectacular smashup before the eyes of 5,000 spectators. Each of the racers had come to Chicago to open the local motorcycle racing season.

Harry Nixon of Dayton, O., was thrown against the outer fence, his body carrying away the top boards.
He died shortly after being taken to St. Anthony's hospital.

The injured were Paul J. Bailey, Indianapolis, skull fractured, ribs crushed in, dying at St. Anthony's hospital; C. S. Hinkley, Aurora, collars broken, cut and bruised, will recover; Frank Hart, Springfield, Mass., racing star, cut and bruised.

Missing Man's Body Found.

Cleveland, O., May 29.—The mystery in the disappearance of Homer W. Messenger, a trustee of the National Order of Railway Mail Clerks, who left home last Tuesday to go fishing, was partly cleared up when his body was found in Rocky river.
Messenger was alone on the fishing trip, and how he was drowned remains unexplained.

What Did Wilke Learn?

Secret Service Investigates New Maine Explosion Story.

New York, May 29.—The World this morning prints a story to the effect that the secret service department investigated the story that an American soldier of fortune, George B. Boynton, touched the electric button that caused the explosion which caused the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor on the night of Feb. 16, 1898. Boynton, it was alleged by the spy who told the story to Chief Wilke, had been captured while leading a filibustering expedition into the interior of Cuba and was held under death sentence in Cabanias fortress at the time the Maine arrived in Havana harbor. The Spaniards had filled a boiler with powder, connected it with an electric shore battery and towed it to the spot where the Maine was to anchor.

THE CHURCH DIVIDES ON PROHIBITION QUESTION EXPELS TEXAS GOVERNOR

Accuse the Executive of Lining Up With the Interests Which Oppose a State Wide Prohibition for the Inhabitants of the Lone Star State.

FIRST ASK HIS RESIGNATION

Request is Refused by Executive of Lone Star State, Who Announces
That No Religious Organization
Has Right to Dictate Political Beliefs of Its Members—is Booked to Speak For Anti-Prohibitionists in Statewide Campaign.

Galveston, Tex., May 29.—Having lined up with the anti-prohibition interests of the state in their fight against statewide prohibition and having accepted invitations to make speeches in their campaign, Governor Colquitt was asked to resign from the Methodist church. He declined to quit the church and there was nothing else to do but expel him, and he refuses to be expelled and insists on being a Methodist and worshipping in the Methodist faith, regardless of whether the church officials cancel his membership or not.

He has made public his declaration and declares that prohibition is a political proposition and not a matter of religion, and that the Methodist church nor any church has any power to dictate to its members whether they shall vote for and support prohibition or anti-prohibition.

The controversy threatens to divide the Methodists in Texas, for the campaign for statewide prohibition is waging hot and the election is to be held in July. The issue in the gubernatorial campaign was submission, which means the submission of the question of statewide prohibition to the people of Texas. The submission carried, hence the election in July, but Governor Colquitt was elected on an anti-prohibition platform and has always been proclaimed the friend of the liquor interests. He says his forefathers in Germany labored to establish the Methodist church and they had much to do with prescribing its rules and regulations, but they did not put prohibition into the confession of faith.

Aeronaut Falls to Death.

Rome, May 29.—Cirri, the aeronaut, during a flight fell 600 feet and was killed. The accident is attributed to an explosion of the gas tank.

Detailed To Watch The Crooks

Pinkerton Will Handle Sleuths at Coronation.

Chicago, May 29.—William A. Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton detec-army of secret service men who will guard the capital from the hordes of "good" crooks now flocking to that city in expectation of rich plunder during the coronation of George V.

Mr. Pinkerton left for New York this morning and will sail for London immediately.

Seventeen-Year Locusts Due.

Washington, May 29.—Seventeen-year locusts are said to be due to ravage vegetation in the eastern states this summer. The vanguard of the invaders is reported to have appeared in Alexandria county, Va., and the prediction is made that within a week or so the "plague" will be common.

Two Killed in Auto Wreck.

Findlay, O., May 29.—Elbert Ebersole, 20, and Henry Rice are dead, while William Hakes is lying at the point of death in a Fostoria hospital, as the result of the former's automobile turning turtle near Bradner and catching fire, burning Ebersole's body beyond recognition. Rice's chest was crushed.

Broken Hip Results Fatally

Washington friends were shocked to learn this morning that Miss Mary Chapman, aged 58 years, 6 months, died at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Addie Larrimer, 136 W. 8th avenue, in Columbus, Monday night. Miss Chapman fell three weeks ago, breaking her hip, and her death was caused by the injuries received. The remains were brought down Monday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. A. J. Thompson, of this city, who was summoned to Columbus the last of the week, and Mrs. Addie Larrimer.

They were taken at once to the home of Mrs. Thompson, who was a cousin of Miss Chapman.

The deceased formerly resided with Mrs. Larrimer in this city and her death causes sadness among many friends.

Funeral at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in Presbyterian Church.

A GOOD MANY VETERANS OF THE Civil War are still young enough to appreciate good, well-made, stylish clothes; no active man ever gets beyond the 'point of wanting to be well-dressed. ## LOAN YOUR AUTO TO THE VETERANS ON MEMORIAL DAY

With the increasing years the old veterans have become so enfeebled that they cannot longer stand the long march to and from the cemetery without great danger, and all owners of automobiles are earnestly urged to join in and take the old soldiers and their auxiliaries to the cemetery tomorrow. Do this in the cause of humanity. Give the use of your machines to the veterans and their ladies on Memorial day.

Many of the nation's heroes' marching days are over. The hearts are willing, anxious, and full of patriotic fire, but their bodies are feeble, and should be accorded the assistance asked for.

Those who will donate their autos to this purpose tomorrow, should so announce their intention to John Near, at Memorial Hall.

FRESHMEN PICTURE.

In accord with the annual custom of each freshman class to add to the picture gallery of the High school stairway, the class of 1914 has purchased their picture, which is now being hung.

Naturally the class thinks it has chosen the most admirable picture of the gallery and it is indeed a fine picture—Lentze "Washington Crossing the Delaware."

The magnificent portrayal on canvas of this vital event in Revolutionary history, with the fine, purposeful face of Washington, the foreground, appealed so to the class that the choice was unanimous. It is framed perfectly, the dark rosewood finish of the frame blending in with the soft shades of the picture.

SCOUTS!

The Boy Scouts will meet at the Central school grounds on Monday night at 7 o'clock to drill, in preparation for Decoration Day. On Decoration Day they will meet at 12:30 on Central grounds to march to the G. A. R. hall.

Instructions have been sent to all Scouts by the commissioner, Ray F. Zener, directing them to assemble as above stated.

MAD DOGS ARE NUMEROUS PRECAUTION NECESSARY THREE KILLED LATELY

Those who believe the mad dog scare in this city is over, and who have removed the muzzles from their dogs, will no doubt be surprised to learn that one veterinarian has killed, or viewed after they were killed, three mad dogs in this city within the past several days.

The dogs were noticed acting strangely, and the veterinarian called. Their disease was soon apparent and they were dispatched before anyone was bitten. If the total number of dogs killed within the past few weeks, because they were afflicted with the rabies, were known, the result would be surprising, as many are killed or die without the general public learning of the affair.

The order to muzzle all dogs should be adhered to by everyone, and all dogs not muzzled should be killed, as has been the half-way custom for several weeks.

TAKEN TO MT.

CARMEL HOSPITAL

Washington friends regret to learn that Mrs. Robert Jefferson, of near Madison Mills, is in a serious condition and was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital Saturday. Mr. Jefferson accompanied her and his brother, Mr. Will Jefferson, of Bloomingburg, went up today.

Filled With Children Auto Plunges Over Embankment

Rock Mills neighborhood was the scene of what came very near being an awful tragedy Sunday evening at 5 o'clock, when Mr. Henry Brownell's big touring car, containing 8 children, ran backward over a steep embankment and plunged downward toward the creek below, but luckily ran into a clump of thorn bushes and a cedar tree, coming to an abrupt stop in the very jaws of death.

The accident was one of the most unusual known. Mr. Brownell, with four of his children and four of Mr. Herbert Brownell's children in the big touring car, was on the creek road leading northward from Rock Mills, and about one mile north of that place. At the point where the accident occurred the road skirts a steep embankment. Mr. Brownell had stopped the car on the grade, and was in the act of starting it again, and, always careful of the safety of the children, looked back to see that all was well. As he looked back his hand unintentionally struck the throttle and the engine stopped.

Forgetting to apply the break to keep the machine from running backward, he stepped out to crank the machine and was horrified when it started backward toward the edge of the embankment. Taking in the situation at a glance, and realizing that he could not reach the brake in time, he thrust his leg under the wheel, hoping to stop the machine. The wheel passed over his leg and to his horror started over the embankment, which is very steep and about fifty feet to the creek below.

The children were paralyzed with fear and were in the very jaws of death when the machine bumped into the bushes and tree, coming to an abrupt stop in the nick of time.

It required a block and tackle to pull the machine from its unusual position, but after it was placed upon the road it was found to be uninjured.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee, son Frank and daughters, Miss Mabel, Mrs. A. L. Teters, of New Holland, made a motoring trip to Kingston Sunday.

Mrs. Eldora Stinson, with Mrs. Margaret Baughn, Mrs. Viroca Woods and Miss Mary Thorpe as her guests, made a motoring trip to Springfield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Turner returned to their home in Ronceverte, W. Va., today after a few days' visit with Mr. Turner's sister, Mrs. D. H. Barchet, who has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peddicord are on an extensive motoring trip, which will include the Indianapolis auto races and a visit with Mrs. Mary Frisbie and daughter, Miss Mame, in New Albany, Ind.

Mrs. S. D. Morgan returned Saturday evening from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Mark Mechlin in Sinking Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Mechlin brought her home in their car and will remain over Decoration day.

Hon. and Mrs. J. M. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baker left Saturday morning in the former's auto for Indianapolis, Ind., to attend the auto races. They expect to return Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, of Columbus, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coffey. Today they are visiting Mr. Clark's father, Mr. John Clark, of Buena Vista, Mr. and Mrs. Coffey accompanying them.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hays had as their guests Sunday a party of motorists, Mrs. Rachel Foster and son, Albert, of Waverly, Miss Margaret McGuire, of Chillicothe, Mr. Percy Pugsley, who was down from the O. S. U.

Messrs. Richard Ramsey, Chas. and Clark Gossard, Ed Tharp, of the Columbus News, and George Hidy, left Sunday evening for the Indianapolis races. Mr. Tharp came down from Columbus Saturday evening and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tharp until last evening.

Miss Bertha Allgower, a lyric soloprano, who sung one entire season at Keiths in Columbus, and has just closed an engagement at Zaneville, arrived today to accept a position as singer in the Palace theater. She will make her first appearance tonight.

Danger Warning Lanterns Stolen From Highways

The stealing of danger lanterns placed by contractors and the county commissioners at points in the public highways where danger exists because of bridges being out, or other obstruction, has reached a point where the Commissioners have decided to make relentless war on the thieves and expect to offer a reward for the capture of anyone removing a lantern as above mentioned.

A number of lanterns have been stolen, leaving dangerous places open to the unwary who may tumble into them after nightfall. A clue to one thief is in the hands of the Commissioners, and if he is caught a good lesson will be made of his case. Criminal prosecution can follow such an act.

Wiley A. Pulley In Wrong Court

Wiley A. Pulley, a Greene county man who is employed upon a farm near Bloomington, dropped into the probate judge's office Saturday evening looking for the papers necessary to allow him to wed Mary Daines, 22, but when it was learned that his bride-to-be lived just over the line in Greene county, he was informed that he must go hence for the license. Pulley said that he did not know it made any difference where the license was procured, just so it was obtained.

E. S. Bacon, 11 Bast St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Blackmer & Tanquary.

I. O. O. F. Hold Memorial Services

The I. O. O. F. decorated over 80 graves of their brothers Sunday afternoon, when they held memorial services, tender and appreciative, in their honor.

The services were held in Memorial hall, and considering the excessively hot day, there was a very large turn out of the order, in full regalia.

Rev. Mitchell, of Bloomington, M. E. Church paid tribute to the deceased members in a beautiful address and also touched upon the ideal fraternal union of the order. Rev. Hostetter, of the Christian church of this city, assisted in the services. A quartette, Mrs. Mary Goldsberry Burgett, Mrs. B. F. Davis, Messrs. Will and Walter Sprenger, furnished much enjoyed music and Walter Sprenger a deep bass solo.

The order marched to the cemetery at the close of the day.

S. A. Plyley was marshal of the day.

MEMORIAL DAY.

There will be no edition of THE HERALD issued tomorrow, Tuesday, May 30th.

On that day the good people of Washington and of every other community under the flag will devote their time to earnest contemplation of the deeds of those who have, in times of national peril, gone to the front in defense of the country and her institutions.

Tomorrow is the day set apart by all America in honor to her defenders, living and dead, and for once, in the busy year we should and will find time to honor and uninterruptedly devote our minds and our energies to a purpose which is not only right but one which is ennobling and helpful as well.

Serious and sincere contemplation of the deeds of heroism and unselfish devotion of the nation's defenders in trying times of war cannot help but make those who sincerely devote themselves to it, much better men and women.

We should lay aside the race for dollars for one day and think only of those who have done so much for our nation.

The ranks of the living survivors of the Civil War are each year growing thinner, and younger and stronger hands are needed now more than ever to assist in proper observance of Memorial Day. The need of younger hands is felt this year more than any year before and next year the need of assistance will be greater than this.

The time is coming when this work must be taken up entirely by the children and grandchildren of those who participated in the memorable struggle and every one should and does deem it a privilege to lay aside personal matters and honor the dead.

FRIENDS AND INCOME.

"The fewer friends you have the smaller income you will need" is one of the pointed paragraphs perpetrated by the Chicago News.

In a certain sense that is true. Yet it is one of those truisms, the meaning of which must be understood to be really appreciated.

Up to a certain point in a man's career, friends are his best, and frequently his only asset. During that period of a man's life when he is struggling for a start in the battle of life his friends are his mainstay.

After prosperity crowns his efforts, however, his friends are no longer relied upon and leeches who pass by the name of friends are too frequently hanging on in bunches.

It is this class of friends who are not friends in fact which form the prosperous man's heaviest liability, and to this class the Chicago paragrapher undoubtedly alludes and he is positively correct, when the reader places himself in the same viewpoint as that occupied by the writer.

The prosperous man is a prey to his friends, using that word as applying to class of retainers and hangers on who attach themselves to the prosperous man of affairs.

The fewer friends he has the less income he will require and the reverse is also true, the less income he has the fewer friends he will have.

Cut off in whole or in part the income—the ability to spend and be a good fellow—and the so-called friends will detach themselves from him and melt away like dew before the morning sun.

THE RURAL POPULATION QUERY.

The free acres of the far West are beckoning the homeseekers this spring. For several months a continuous stream of land seekers has been pouring through the cities of St. Paul, Omaha, and Kansas City, enroute to the "Golden West". These land-hungry citizens are recruited largely from the middle west, and a large percentage have already chosen their location and will establish homes upon arriving at their destination. A majority of these people are well supplied with money, having sold their farms at good prices. The West welcomes their coming, for its greatest need is people.

The public lands of the nation are rapidly diminishing, but the loss of acres is more than made up by the creation of individual homes and cultivated fields which replace the wide expanse of unproductive country.

On all the irrigation projects of the Government the influx of settlers is large, so large in fact the engineers are unable to extend the canal systems rapidly enough to meet the demands for additional farms.

Today only four of the projects contain available government farms for which water is ready. On all the projects the large holdings are being subdivided as required by law, and numerous opportunities are offered to purchase desirable lands in the midst of old established communities where the newcomer may enjoy a settled neighborhood, with schools, churches, roads, and first-class markets. These lands are attractive to men with ample means, as the hard work of getting desert land ready for cultivation is largely eliminated.

The Reclamation Service at Washington is rendering valuable assistance in supplying information concerning the opportunities for homeseekers on the several irrigation projects. As long as these favorable opportunities exist our patriotic citizens have no excuse for leaving their own country to take up homes under a foreign flag.

DECORATION DAY

By EUGENE F. WARE
(Ironquill)

[The author of this unique poem is a Kansas lawyer, formerly commissioner of pensions, and served through the civil war, being mustered out as captain of an Iowa cavalry troop. Mr. Ware has written many patriotic poems.]

It is needless I should tell you
Of the history of Sumter.
How the chorus of the cannon
Shook its walls,
How the scattered navies gathered,
How the iron ranked battalions
Rose responsive to the country's urgent Calls.

It is needless that I tell you,
For the time is still too recent,
How was heard the first vindictive cannon's
How the brothers stopped debating
On a sad, unsettled question
And referred it to the arbitrating steel.

It is needless that I tell you
Of the somber days that followed—Stormy days that in such slow succession ran—
Of Antietam, Chickamauga,
Gettysburg and Murfreesboro
Or the rocky, cannon shaken Rapidan.

It was not a war of conquest
It was fought to save the Union;
It was waged for an idea of the right,
And the graves so widely scattered
Show how fruitful an idea
In peace or war may be in moral might.

Brief indeed the war had lasted
Had it raged in hope of plunder,
Briefly still had glory been its only aim,
But its long and sad duration
And the graves it has bequeathed us
Other motives, other principles, proclaim.

Need I mention this idea,
The invincible idea,
That seemed to hold and save the nation's life;
That resisted and unblenching,
Undaunted by disaster, Seemed the soul and inspiration of the strife?

This idea was of freedom—
Was that men should all stand equal,
That the world was interested in the fight;
That the present and the future
Were factors who had chosen
Us to argue and decide the case aright.

And the theories of freedom
Those now silent bugles uttered
Will reverberate with ever glowing tones.
They can never be forgotten,
But will work among the nations Till they sweep the world of shackles and of thrones.

It is meet that we do honor
To the comrades who have fallen,
Meet that we the sadly woven garlands twine
Where they buried lie is sacred,
Whether 'neath the northern marble
Or beneath the southern cypress tree or pine.

Nations are the same as children—
Always living in the future,
Living in their aspirations and their hopes,
Picturing some future greatness,
Reaching forth for future prizes,
With a wish for higher aims and grander scopes.

It is better for the people
That they reach for an ideal,
That they give their future nations better lives,
Though the standard be unreal,
Though the hope meets no fulfillment,
Though the fact in empty dreams alone survives.

If the people rest contented
With the good they have accomplished
Then they retrograde and slowly sink away,
Give a nation an ideal,
Some grand, noble, central project,
It, like adamant, refuses to decay.

'Tis the duty of the poet,
'Tis the duty of the statesman,
To inspire a nation's life with nobler aims,
And dishonor will overshadow
Him who dares not or who falsely
His immortal fruited mission mispro-claims.

STORY OF DEEDS OF MEMORIAL DAY.

German Soldier Whose Name is Forgotten First Suggested Decorating Graves of Comrades.

TO an unknown German, a one time resident of Cincinnati and a veteran of the civil war, belongs the primary credit of suggesting a national Memorial day; to General John A. Logan, soldier-statesman and third commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and to Norton P. Chipman, adjutant general of the national organization, belongs the honor of promulgating the first order.

In the original orders issued from the Grand Army headquarters by General Logan, May 30 was designated as what has since been termed Memorial day. The order was issued early in May, 1868, and since that time May 30 has become a holiday and is observed by every Grand Army post in the Union.

General Logan was elected commander in chief at an encampment held in Philadelphia in January, 1868. He established headquarters in Washington.

Early in May of that year Adjutant General Chipman received a letter from a member of a Cincinnati post in which the first suggestion for Memorial day was made. General Chipman, who is living in California, does not remember the name of the writer who described himself as a German who had served as a private in the Union army. This soldier wrote that in his native country it was a custom of the people to assemble in the spring and scatter flowers on the graves of the dead.

"Would it not be a good idea to have the Grand Army of the Republic inaugurate such an idea and set aside a day in spring in memory of the Union dead?" he wrote.

General Chipman regarded the suggestion most favorably, and accordingly he drew up a rough draft of a general order carrying the suggestion into effect. This he laid before General Logan, who heartily approved of the idea.

General Logan suggested that May 30 be made the date for the observance of Memorial day, his idea being that at that date spring flowers could be procured in profusion, even in the most northern states and in New England. There were several conferences on the subject between General Logan and General Chipman.

It is related that General Logan was so enthused with the idea of a general Memorial day that he added several paragraphs to the draft of the order drawn by General Chipman, which in the history of the Grand Army of the Republic is known as general order No. 11.

At first the wisdom of General Logan's order was doubted by many persons, who urged as an argument that the setting aside of a Memorial day would unnecessarily keep alive memories of the war and foster enmities. However, the objections were not strong enough, and the first Memorial day was generally observed, even by posts that had been instituted in the south.

In Washington the first Memorial day was observed by appropriate services in Arlington cemetery. Feeling still ran high at the capital then, but a great crowd went to Arlington. General James A. Garfield, who later became president, was the orator of the day. President Johnson was present, and others who attended the ceremonies included General Grant, General W. S. Hancock, General O. O. Howard and General Elkin.

OUR SOLDIER DEAD IN 84 CEMETERIES.

More Than 350,000 Heroes of Our Wars
Are Buried in Graveyards Owned by the Government.

IN the palmy days of democratic Athens the bones of every citizen who perished in the service of his country were brought home to be buried in the Ceramicus. A day was appointed in the winter, when military operations were suspended, for the funeral. One of the noblest orations of antiquity—that attributed by Thucydides to Pericles—was delivered on such an occasion.

Modern nations build stately mausoleums for their great generals, but are usually content to allot only the hasty trench or ditch to the common soldier. The bones of British soldiers are scattered the world around.

To this rule of indifference as to the final resting place of obscure heroes the United States forms a shining and honorable exception. There are today eighty-four national cemeteries, which contained on June 30, 1900, the graves of 359,285 American soldiers and sailors.

The national cemeteries are mainly a result of the civil war. In September, 1861, the secretary of war by general order directed accurate and permanent records to be kept of deceased soldiers and their places of burial. The work was assigned to the quartermaster general's department. That department already had charge of the burial of officers and soldiers, but its care had ordinarily ended with the drifting smoke of the guns that were discharged over their graves.

By act of July 17, 1862, congress empowered the president to purchase cemetery grounds to be used for the burial of "soldiers who shall die in the service of their country." Such was the intensity of the great war that for some time no action was taken under the law.

Following the battle of Gettysburg Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania inaugurated a movement whereby several states purchased seventeen acres of ground embracing the center of the Union line and caused to be disinterred and reburied there the bodies of the soldiers who had been buried outside this area. The cemetery was dedicated by Lincoln, Nov. 19, 1863, in that perfect tribute to the "honored dead" who there "gave the last full measure of devotion." The cemetery was subsequently taken over by the nation.

In the summer of 1865 a force of men under Captain James Moore was sent to Andersonville to inclose the grounds and provide headboards for each grave. They were able to identify 12,461 of the graves, leaving only 451 "unknown."

The eighty-four national cemeteries are divided according to importance into twenty-six first class, twenty second class, sixteen third class and twenty-two fourth class cemeteries. Those in the first class include Arlington, Andersonville, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Chattanooga, Nashville, Corinth, Gettysburg, Fredericksburg, Jefferson Barracks, Shiloh and Vicksburg.

In the number of interments that at Arlington stands first, with 21,108. That at Vicksburg is a rather close second, with 16,892. The Nashville cemetery is third, with 16,691.

Arlington, as is generally known, formerly belonged to the wife of General Robert E. Lee. Mrs. Lee was a daughter of George Washington Parke Custis, who was a grandson of Martha Washington. The stately mansion, whose classic columns have been seen by every visitor to Washington city, was inherited by her, and at the outbreak of the civil war it was the Lee home. Lee, then a colonel in the United States army, wrote his resignation there April 20, 1861. Two days later he quitted his beautiful home forever to accept command of the military forces of his state.

Overlooking as it does the Potomac and the capital, a more beautiful site could scarcely be imagined. Magnificent old oaks shade its glades and knolls, and art has perfected what nature left undone. The cemetery contains the tombs of Logan, Sheridan, Lawton and other noted generals.

One of the most interesting national cemeteries is that on Custer's battlefield in Montana. The story of the dashing yellow haired young major general and every man of five panes of the Seventh cavalry who lived in battle with the Sioux, June 1876, is known to every one. The smallest national cemetery is that at Ball's Bluff, Va. It is on the site of the battlefield of that name, fought 1861. It is only fifty feet square and is situated on a large bluff overlooking the upper Potomac. It contains graves of one known and twenty-two unknown soldiers.

WILL CONVENE SPECIAL COURT

Nations Whose Citizens Have Been Killed or Their Property Destroyed During Late Unpleasantness Are Requested to File Amounts and Proof at Earliest Possible Moment. Will be Considered in Regular Sequence.

Mexico City, May 29. — President De La Barra has sent notes to the representatives of aggrieved nations stating that a court of claims would be immediately established for the consideration of demands against Mexico for damages and indemnity arising from the killing of foreigners and the destruction of foreign property. According to De La Barra, duplicate notes were sent to the embassies of the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Spain, China and Italy.

Representations for recovery of damages may be made and all speed will be made to bring the claims before the court as soon as possible. De La Barra gave assurances of the anxiety of the government to make reparation on all bona fide claims of loss or death. No date is set for the convening of the court, but it is understood that within a month the court will be in session and claims will be considered according to precedence.

The second important announcement made by the new president was that concerning the disposition of a large part of the Insurrecto armies. He is said now to be considering a plan for paying a certain pension to all revolutionaries and a pension to the families of those killed. The better element of the Insurrectos are allowed the option of joining the rurales or joining a force that will be used to suppress brigands throughout the country. A bill authorizing this scheme will shortly be introduced into congress, and a committee of five from the senate and the deputies will be appointed to work out the details of reimbursement. De La Barra hopes that this matter will be settled before the holding of the elections, so that no bands of armed and discontented revolutionaries may still exist to the embarrassment of the elections.

The beginning of the competition for these two cups will start this afternoon.

TWELVE AVIATORS START

Only One American Entered in Paris-Rome-Turin Flight.

Paris, May 29.—Nothing equalling the Petit Journal's Paris-Rome-Turin aeroplane contest for a prize of $100,000, which started here, has yet been seen. Within 15 minutes from the time of starting 10 of the competitors got away, and within an hour 12 had started on the 1,300-mile flight.

Instead of starting from Issy-les-Moulineaux, as did the Paris-Madrid race last Sunday, this race began at the aviation grounds at Buc, three miles from Versailles. There were no invitations issued and the absence of special trains to the starting point kept the immediate vicinity free from crowds. But there were good sight-seeing spots for dozens of miles around and they were thronged.

Garros was the first to get away, determined to offset the bad luck he had in the Paris to Madrid contest. Beaumont, who in the Paris to Madrid race started under the name of Andre Beaumont, was the second to start. Henry Weymann, the only American in the race, started flying the stars and stripes. His rapid Nieuport machine left far behind Frey's Morane, though Frey got away shortly before Weymann. Weymann came down at Bedford, 50 miles from the start, because he was short of gasoline.

Columbus, O., May 29.—Here is a new species of food fraud against which the dairy and food department has taken up the cudgels of war. An interesting discovery of how much sausage is made from a comparatively small quantity of meat has been made at Toledo. To the meat to be used for sausage has been added starch. To the starch has been added a life-size quantity of water, which was absorbed by the starch. The net result was that 25 to 40 per cent was added to the weight. Half a dozen affidavits were sent to Toledo by the department. The business has proved quite profitable in Toledo.

the Gotham aggregation in the race, and year after year the public has flocked out to see him as it would flock to see no other player. Mathewson recently made $75,000 in a stock deal, so that even if his baseball days are over, he'll not starve. He will be seen on the mound as usual when the Giants come here shortly, although it is not likely that he will pitch in the Sunday game on June 11, which is one of the New York's dates on the local grounds.

That promises to be a nifty battle of has-beens when Jimmy Britt and Battling Nelson get together on the Fourth of July, probably at San Francisco. These boys, who are classed with the stars of yesternight, have met on four previous occasions. Twice was Britt victorious, once did the decision go to Nelson, and once was no decision given. Chief interest in this particular battle hinges on the fact that the defeated man will go into retirement, for which followers of the fighting game up-to-date will be truly thankful.

There is much opposition among the honest supporters of the turf against the proposed match race between Meridian, winner of the Kentucky Derby, and Governor Gray, who was beaten in that race by a scant length. It is pointed out that match races in the past have usually given rise to scandal, in many cases justified; and that in order that the turf may continue to show improvement in the matter of the general conduct of its affairs, it were wise to refrain from anything that would have a tendency to bring the honesty of the sport further into question.

Sport lovers of the middle west promise to be pretty numerous at the big Decoration Day automobile race at Indianapolis, when efforts will be made to lower the time for the 500-miles on an oval track. The fact that spills and accidents of various kinds are among the possibilities does not hinder the general seeker for excitement from attending these races, and it is estimated that 100,000 people will be present when the start is made at 10 o'clock in the morning. It is estimated that a pace better than 60 miles an hour will be maintained during the gruelling contest.

IT'S YOUR NERVES THAT AIL YOU

Don't Lay the Blame to the Stomach, Blood, Heart or Bowels

It's the nerves that are the real offenders nine times out of ten.

But don't leave it to nature alone to make them well. Nature can only go so far. When that point is reached nature needs aid.

Morse's Glycerole will do more in less time to build up your nerves and your body as a whole than any other remedial agency yet discovered. For it doesn't stop with lending a little aid to the stomach. It doesn't help in a little way the tired and worn-out nerves, leaving the blood to look after itself. It grips, holds, strengthens starts to build up, recharges and revitalizes the whole body, inside and out. Blackmer & Tanquary will comment among the incredulous by making the bold assertion that the Reds have a good chance to land the pennant in the National League this season. Griffith bases this assertion upon the fact that he has the best batting and base running team in the League, is better supplied with catchers than any organization in existence, is strong in a majority of his fielding positions, and will have better than an average pitching staff when his twirlers get going properly. Of course, at the present moment, the team isn't working up to form, according to the Griffith dope; but when they get back home in June, watch their smoke. Their first game after their long trip will be played on Sunday, May 28, when they stop off for a joust with the Pirates, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis. Later in the week the Eastern teams will begin arriving, the first Sabbath encounter with the seaboard aggregations being set for June 4, when Fred Tenney's new Bostonians oppose the Reds.

Critics in the East would have us believe that Christy Mathewson, for ten years the greatest individual drawing card in the National League, has lost his grip and is rapidly retrograding as a twirler. If this is true, it will indeed prove a calamity for the National League, and particularly for the Giants. "Matty" has been the mainstay of the Giants since first he became identified with the team. Year after year he has kept Columbus, O., May 29.—Caught like rats in a trap when a 50-gallon tank of ammonia exploded in their midst, three employees at work on the pumps in the ice plant at the rear of the Fulton Market were overcome by fumes, and one of them, Edwin I. Hopkins, 43, whose egress was barred by a locked door, died in agony at St. Francis hospital just as he was being removed from the police ambulance. The other men, Harry Miller and John Thomas, escaped through a door into the office before they were dangerously affected.

THE GRAND ARMY IS HONORED IN MEMORIAL SERMON

The veterans of the G. A. R. and the members of their auxiliary societies were honored Sunday morning in an eloquent memorial sermon by Rev. West, of the First Baptist church.

The R. B. Hayes and John M. Bell Posts were accompanied by the Ladies of the G. A. R., the W. R. C., the D. A. R. and Co. M. O. N. G., the body of the auditorium reserved for them.

The beautiful church paid them tribute in an elaborate decoration of flags, bunting, and jardineres of peonies, in the crimson and the white.

The minister took as the basis of his sermon the text, "Greater Love Hath No Man Than This That a Man Lay Down His Life for His Friend," exemplified as it was in the friendship of man to man and patriot to country in the call of 1861.

With word pictures that brought back vivid recollections to the boys who wore the blue, Rev. West sketched the conditions of fifty years ago, the period of enlistment, the terrible struggle through the campaign and the return from the battlefields to a country united through the blood of its men and the tears of its women.

Particularly effective was the singing of "Just Before the Battle" by a male quartette, Messrs. Burch, Barrere, Updyke, VanPelt, as the speaker paused after his introduction and before a description of the first battle after the enlistment. Its appeal to the old soldiers was wonderfully strong. Mr. VanPelt also sang a solo and the choir rendered an anthem.

FIRE ON RAILROAD BRIDGE OVER COMPTON CREEK SECOND TIME IN TWO WEEKS

For the second time within two weeks the C. & M. V. railroad bridge over Compton creek, five miles east of this city, caught fire Saturday, and would have been destroyed had not residents of the neighborhood discovered the blaze a few minutes after it had gained a foothold, and succeeded in extinguishing it before the timbers were greatly weakened.

The structure is built of pine, and two weeks ago was so badly damaged that it required a bridge gang several days to make repairs. It is the intention of the company to construct a steel bridge at this point either this year or next, and this will eliminate the liability of a big wreck at the creek, where it is down grade on both sides, allowing little chance of stopping to a rapidly moving train.

Big Trains Pass Through On Sunday

On account of the big wreck on the B. & O. railroad near Farmers Station the big west-bound New York limited train was detoured at Greenfield to the D. T. and I. over which road it traveled to this city where it was transferred again to the B. & O. and proceeded on the Cincinnati several hours late.

Owing to the light track of the D. T. & I. a very slow rate of speed was maintained by the heavy train from Greenfield to this city.

The Pasteur Treatment Taken by R. O. Walters

R. O. Walters, the Lewis street grocer, whose pony became afflicted with the rabies, is taking the pasteur treatment under charge of Dr. L. L. Brock. Mr. Walters had a sore on his hand, and had his hand in the pony's mouth administering some medicine Friday night, so that the hand was covered with saliva, and the effects would be the same as if he were bitten by the pony, or mad dog.

Mr. Walters will have the treatment administered in this city, the vaccine being shipped to this city direct from the laboratory each day.

Those who thought it unnecessary to treat the little Hoskins boy to prevent rabies, claiming that the dog was not mad, will now see their error, and what might have resulted had the little fellow not been treated. There is no question but what the Walters dog that bit the boy, bit the pony also, and after five weeks the pony went mad.

Smalley's Reply

In answer to the reasons given by the manager of the Home Telephone Company for his autocratic action in removing my telephone instrument, I have only to say that his statements are in direct contradiction to the ones made to me in my rooms a few weeks ago, when I was told by the manager, M. B. Shank, when he called at my solicitation, that I would be given better service and that I was not at fault in any particular, at the same time thanking me for the information I had given him. I will also add that I have never been guilty of shielding myself behind a woman while attempting to fight a battle in an effort to protect my rights as a citizen.

And I most certainly would not accept a position, the holding of which might in any way endanger the good name of any woman to the extent of subjecting that name to gossip or ridicule.

I have too much faith in the strength of the laws of Ohio to believe that we will ever revert to those days of ancient Rome where if one dared ask for justice he was answered by the lash.

J. A. SMALLEY.

Hundreds View Mad Shetland Pony. Mercifully Killed

The Shetland pony owned by R. O. Walters, of Lewis street, which went mad Saturday morning and was confined in Dr. V. P. Smith's barn on Temple street, was killed Saturday afternoon at four o'clock by Dr. Smith, who ended its life by bleeding.

The pony became more violent as the day progressed, biting and tearing at the stall and gnawing its legs after the manner of a dog gnawing a bone. It became noised about the streets that a mad pony was confined in the Smith barn, and hundreds of people visited the barn and viewed the pony during the afternoon, and continued to pour in until nine o'clock at night. Those who went after four o'clock were of course disappointed.

The pony's head was cut off and sent to Columbus for examination, although there was no doubt about the pony's disease.

Thieving Gypsies Tap Tills Bold Antics

Complaint was made to the police Monday morning by a number of persons in the city, of a disreputable band of gypsies who were making the rounds of the smaller places of business in the city, trying to rob cash drawers, steal various articles, and creating all kinds of mischief.

The band proved to be the same bunch of scoundrels who tried to flim-flam a number of people in the county last year, and who were arrested and fined for some of their crookedness. There was four wagons, containing a number of men, women and children. The women, dirty and filthy in appearance, with all the ear-marks of witches, were the ones who tried to make the thefts.

Their scheme consisted in entering a grocery or butcher shop, and while one was purchasing some trifles or making the dealer believe she was going to purchase, the other entered the cash drawer, or seized any small article in sight. They were caught in nearly every instance, and ordered out of the place in a hurry.

They were on Clinton avenue when Chief Devaney located them, and he hurried them out of the city under threat of arrest and fine. They are about as tough looking persons as could be found on the face of the globe.

Their principal way of flim-flaming the public is under the pretext of telling fortunes, and they get the victim's money in their hands and walk out.

Samuel Day Bound Over

An assault and battery case was tried before Mayor Allen this morning, in which Samuel Day, of Rock Mills, was the defendant, and Anna Day, his daughter-in-law, the prosecuting witness, who claimed that on May 24, Mr. Day struck her in the face.

The case attracted much interest among parties in the Rock Mills neighborhood, and seems to come under the classification of family quarrel. Mr. Day was bound over to the grand jury under $100 bond.

Both parties are well known in the Rock Mills locality and it is deeply regretted that such affairs should exist and be aired in the courts.

Echoes of Mystery And Pitiful Fate

Hidden away in the northernmost corner of the little Johnson cemetery near Johnson's Crossing, with no other mark save briars and weeds, is the little grave where all that is mortal of the mysterious man who was found in the waters of Compton creek near the cemetery on December 5, 1909, and whose identity could never be ascertained, other than the name of "C. H. Banks" engraved on a brass shot-gun shell in his pocket.

His remains had been in the water for six or eight months, and the bones, scraps of clothing, etc., were gathered together and placed in a little grave as above mentioned. With the approach of decoration day, some one some where will long for the unknown man, and would give untold wealth were it theirs to give, if his grave were known to them, that flowers might be strewn upon it.

Baccalaureate Sermon at Grace Church

Thirty-six graduates, in the dignified cap and gown, accompanied by Supt. McClain, the High school faculty and the members of the Board of Education, passed down the aisles of Grace church Sunday night and were seated in the center of the auditorium for the Baccalaureate sermon.

The entire services were beautiful and impressive, a profusion of flowers filling the church with their redolence and special music including anthems, by the choir, a vocal duet by Misses Harsha and Sheen and organ solos by Miss Light.

Rev. West, of the First Baptist church, delivered a strong sermon to the purposeful boys and girls who will receive their diplomas Wednesday night and go out from their Alma Mater to a broader arena.

The theme, "Eminence Through Service," was divided into three sub-heads, "Ambition's Request, Ambition's Realm and Ambition's Reward." The speaker putting into his treatment of each inspiration for the best and highest in life's battles.

Hottest May In History

The last half of the present month is perhaps the hottest May in history, and the oldest residents cannot recall a May when such universal heat prevailed. The thermometer has been dancing all the way from 50 degrees at night, to over 100 degrees in the afternoons.

Sunday was perhaps the hottest day of the month, and Gossard's self-registering thermometer showed that at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon it was 100 in the shade, and by six o'clock this had dropped 22 degrees, or to 78. Sunday morning at 6 p. m. it was 64 degrees.

The highest recorded last week was: Monday 85; Tuesday 89; Wednesday 83; Thursday 93; Friday 93; Saturday 88; Sunday 100. If the thermometer had been in the sun the heat would have been from ten to fifteen degrees greater. The intense heat and dry weather is causing much discomfort.

Another Wreck On B. & O.

Another disastrous freight wreck occurred on the B. & O. railroad Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, when a through freight on the main line near Farmers Station, Clinton county, left the rails, and twelve cars and an engine were badly smashed.

Just what caused the wreck has not been ascertained, but the train left the track while going down grade, and cars and wreckage were strewn for 100 yards, blocking the road for many hours, and necessitating the detouring of the passenger trains via this city.

Postoffice Claimed To Be Self-Supporting

Hitchcock Returns $3,000,000 Appropriation to Treasury.

Washington, May 29.—The post office department for the first time in nearly 30 years is self-supporting. Postmaster General Hitchcock announced that the department is now able to meet its entire expenses without aid from the federal treasury, and has accordingly returned to the secretary of the treasury $3,000,000 which was set aside from the public funds to defray the expenses of the postal service in the current fiscal year. Not only is the service now self-sustaining, but there is at present, according to the postmaster general's announcement, a postal surplus of more than $1,000,000.

The postmaster general contends that the big deficit was wiped out, not by curtailing postal facilities, as some of his critics have contended, but by introducing business methods in the department and extending the service along profitable lines.

Accused Judge Donnelly Makes New Plea

Toledo, O., May 29.—That the offense, if any, in the case of Judge Michael Donnelly, former president of the Ohio German Fire Insurance company, was the embezzlement of neither money or checks, as charged in the indictment, but was the embezzlement of a cause of action against the banks, is the basis of the contention for the discharge of the defendant.

THE LITTLE UNION BUSHWHACKER'S NERVE

By CAPTAIN F. A. MITCHELL

MRS. STARKWEATHER, living in middle Tennessee during the civil war, was a Union woman to the core. Her husband was killed by secessionists before hostilities began, leaving her very bitter against them. Her son, Tom Starkweather, was fourteen years old when his father was killed, and he made a boyish vow that he would never miss a chance to kill a secessionist. He found no opportunity to do so until after the war opened. Then at fifteen he began the work of revenge.

He would waylay his enemies and shoot them from behind trees, the regular bushwhacking method during wartime. One by one he picked off all of those who had been instrumental in his father's death.

In those days there were bands of partisan rangers in Kentucky and Tennessee, unenlisted, ununiformed men who fought for the Confederacy on their own hook, which meant that some of them were murderers and pillagers. These men were a special object of Tom's antipathy. A band led by one Bennett, made up in the region where he lived, lost so many men, whose deaths were traced to Tom, that they were anxious to get their hands on the boy.

Tom and another Union boy, Sam Parks, were a good deal together. Tom would do the shooting, and Sam would do the watching. But Sam was unknown by their enemies as having anything to do with the matter, Tom always taking the blame.

One day Bennett's band came into the district where the boys lived, and they went out hunting the rangers for their scalps. By this time Tom was known as the little Union bushwhacker, and Bennett had determined that if he ever caught him he would put an end to his shooting his men from behind trees. While the men were riding along a road one of them dropped behind. Tom, who was concealed in the woods, shot him. Then the two boys ran for Tom's home as fast as their legs could carry them.

Bennett, hearing the shot, galloped back and found his man badly wounded. He told his chief that he had probably been shot by the little Union bushwhacker. Bennett, surmising that Tom would go home, after calling to his men to take care of the one disabled, rode straight for Mrs. Starkweather's cabin. Fearing that the boys would be followed, she hid them.

When Bennett rode up and asked for Tom she told him that her son was not at home. But this did not satisfy the partisan leader, and he made a thorough search of the premises, with the result that both boys were dragged from behind a wood pile in a shed.

"Which of you boys is the little Union bushwhacker?" asked the captain.

Neither boy replied. Bennett asked the woman, threatening to shoot her if she did not reply.

"You don't suppose I'd tell you uns on my own son, would you, to get him killed as his father was?"

The captain thought a moment, then said to her:

"You stand up there with your face agin the woodshed."

The woman did as directed, which brought her back to the boys. Bennett handed each of them a revolver and said to them:

"When I give the order you two fire. The one that doesn't or misses I'm goin' to shoot right down."

This was rather a crude method of detecting which was the woman's son, but it was the best the captain could call up at the moment. He expected to judge by the flinching of the one who was required to fire at his own mother.

Now, Bennett had left his hand to attend to this matter himself. He was so incensed at this new shooting by the little Union bushwhacker that he had dashed away after the culprit, waiting only to call for some one to take care of the man who had been wounded. It never occurred to him that he would need support in hunting a boy. So wrought upon was he by anger that he did not think of the danger of putting arms in the hands of the boy. The two youngsters stood facing Mrs. Starkweather. When the captain gave the order to fire Sam put a bullet as near as possible without hitting her Tom, quick as a flash, brought his weapon to bear on Bennett and shot him through the forehead.

Mrs. Starkweather turned and, seeing the captain gasping his last breath, said quickly:

"Come, my boy; we must get out of this in a hurry. Sam, you go home. Nobody knows of your being mixed up in this fracas."

Without stopping even to return to the house she and Tom dashed off in one direction, while Sam went in another. The mother and son disappeared in a wood. At the same moment half a dozen horsemen belonging to the band, who, having heard the shooting, galloped after their captain, appeared up the road. When they reached the Starkweather cabin they found it deserted and Bennett lying dead.

They at once scattered to hunt for his slayer, but Tom knew of a hole in the ground overhung with bushes into which he and his mother descended, and the searchers missed them. When the hunt was given up they left their hiding place and made their way into the Union lines.
